Born in Amsterdam, the Netherlands, Emanuel Tov emigrated to Israel in 1961. He studied Bible and Greek literature at the Hebrew University and continued his studies at the Dept. of Near Eastern Languages and Literatures at Harvard University between 1967 and 1969. He obtained his Ph.D. degree at the Hebrew University in 1973.

Since 1986 Emanuel Tov has been a professor in the Dept. of Bible of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem (since 1990 he holds the J. L. Magnes chair). He has been a guest professor at various Universities in Europe and the USA. He received several research awards, among them the Humboldt Research Prize, Germany and the Emet Prize in Biblical Research awarded to him by the Prime Minister of Israel. In 2006 he was appointed Corresponding Fellow of the British Academy, and in 2009 he received the Israel Prize in Biblical Research. In 2010 he received the Samaritan Medal for Humanitarian Achievement from the High Priest on Mt. Gerizim.

E. Tov has specialized in various aspects of the textual criticism of Hebrew and Greek Scripture as well as in the Qumran Scrolls. He has written and edited numerous books and articles, among them two text books. One of them, Textual Criticism of the Hebrew Bible, was awarded the Prize for the Best Book Relating to the Old Testament in 1992 by the Biblical Archaeological Society in Washington.

Emanuel Tov is involved in several research projects, but since 1990, most of his energy is invested in directing the Dead Sea Scrolls Publication Project. Under his guidance thirty-three volumes appeared in 1992-2010 in the Discoveries in the Judaean Desert series, including an overall concordance.
